

Hello friends and Happy Earth Day!

I am so happy to pass along to you a new movie short put out by the folks that brought us the Story of Plastic. Our friend Paula at the Watershed Project shared it with me <3. It's only 4 minutes long and its message is so important.

Please have an awesome Earth Day by watching and passing this along to a friend.

Why does this movie matter? Much of the conversation about plastic pollution focuses on plastic in the environment – but that's just part of the story. The truth is that plastic production harms people and the planet long before plastic reaches store shelves! What's more, the corporations responsible for this mess are rarely held accountable. We're naming names!

We're proud of this story, and we hope you'll learn something new.

We'd also love it if you helped spread the word by sharing the video with your community online. Together, we can write a new #storyofplastic!

In solidarity,

Brett Chamberlin
